

Who is PSI Repair Services, Inc.?

The world's leading, single-source provider of component repairs, product enhancements, remanufacturing and replacement services.

That's right. PSI Repair Services is the world's largest independent component repair company for electronics, hydraulics, robotics and precision mechanical assemblies. Our repairs save customers up to 70% versus the cost of buying new components from the OEM. All repairs come with a free evaluation and performance test. For optimal peace-of-mind, PSI offers the most comprehensive engineering services in the industry, featuring state-of-the-art diagnostic equipment that provides powerful failure analysis, which can be used to make more informed maintenance decisions. In many cases, PSI's engineering team can enhance the performance of a faulty OEM component with superior, more efficient technology to further extend the component's life. For unsalvageable and obsolete components, PSI offers component remanufacturing services that are second to none. In addition, PSI offers surplus parts and emergency services for customers that need to get their critical systems back up and running again as quickly as possible.

Why should you choose PSI Repair Services?

We offer:

- The highest quality repairs
- 24/48 hour emergency repair services
- Immediate delivery for exchanges and surplus components
- The best Engineering and Support Services Departments in the business.
